Elke Harreiss, Director FENSTERBAU FRONTALE at NürnbergMesse, provides some insights into how things are progressing: “With its proven formula of innovative products and solutions at the stands, knowledge-sharing in forums and personal networking, FENSTERBAU FRONTALE will once again be the No. 1 gathering for the international window, door and facade community in 2024. We very much appreciate the commitment shown by our exhibitors, who have constantly stressed to us the importance of the leading international fair as a sales, marketing and networking channel and have already marked the next event in their calendars. I recommend that all interested companies contact us in good time to be considered in the first round of stand allocations.”
