FeuerTrutz 2023: Visit planning made easy

The international fire protection community can look forward to two fascinating days offering a wealth of experiences: On 21-22 June, Nuremberg will welcome manufacturers of fire protection products, fire protection designers, certified experts, fire safety officers, operators, and installers representing passive and active fire protection from throughout Europe for FeuerTrutz 2023. About 240 exhibitors will be on hand in exhibition halls 4 and 4A to show their innovative solutions and products for fire prevention and fire containment. The accompanying congress, organized by RM Rudolf Müller Medien, and the broad-based supporting programme will once again provide an attraction with new and popular highlights. To get the maximum out of their two-day attendance at the trade fair, visitors can make a few preparations right now.

“To enable our visitors to focus on networking, discovery and experience during the two-day in-person event, we recommend that they all make use of our comprehensive range of online services to prepare for their visit right now,” says Stefan Dittrich, Director FeuerTrutz, NürnbergMesse. “Whether it’s buying tickets, planning travel and accommodation, finding and making a note of exhibitors and products, or putting together a personal timetable of fascinating presentations, we make it as easy as possible for our visitors.”

Find and note exhibitors and products in advance

The product groups exhibited at FeuerTrutz cover the entire range of products, services, providers of training and professional development, associations and organizations for passive, active and organizational fire protection: from wall construction, façades, ceilings, floors, doors, curtains and windows to coatings, partitions, electrical fittings, fastening systems, ventilation; warning, alarm, fire extinguishing, fire prevention, escape and rescue systems; and tools and software. Familiarization with the venue

FeuerTrutz extends across two exhibition halls, 4 and 4A. There is also an outdoor presentation area and the Fire Protection Congress in the NCC Ost congress centre. An overview of the entire venue and the individual exhibition halls, including all trade forums and special exhibition areas, can be obtained from the floor plans which are available for downloading from: www.feuertrutz-messe.de/floorplan

Create a customized supporting programme

The supporting programme for FeuerTrutz is growing! In addition to the exhibitor trade forum in Hall 4A, the “Forum by asecos academy” will be held for the first time in 2023 in Hall 4, Stand 4-440, which will include practical experiments on the safe handling of hazardous materials and the “Red Sofa” talk round on the subject of “Failure of critical infrastructure”. Another first will be the “A practical guide to digitization” forum in Hall 4, Stand 4-123, offering fascinating suggestions on the subject of digitalization in the trades. Further highlights include the Fire Protection EXPERIENCE, which offers first-hand experience of both indoor and outdoor fire protection products, the Training & Career meeting place, and the “Innovation made in Germany” pavilion. The online event planner shows all topics and times in the overview and offers, in addition to a daily overview that can be printed out, the ability to save times directly in the visitor’s own calendar:

Reserve tickets for the trade fair now: Advance sales online in the Ticket Shop

The visitor ticket shop for FeuerTrutz is already online! To avoid waiting when they arrive, visitors can enjoy the convenience of purchasing their online ticket or redeeming their voucher code here in advance. A 1-day ticket costs EUR 45, or a ticket for unlimited access EUR 60: www.feuertrutz-messe.de/ticket

Tickets for the Fire Protection Congress and BrandschutzDIREKT

Separate tickets are required for the Fire Protection Congress and the BrandschutzDIREKT seminar on extinguishing technology, both organized by RM Rudolf Müller Medien. The top themes for the Fire Protection Congress in 2023 are “Targeted and structured implementation of fire protection in existing buildings”, “Risks and concepts for batteries and other energy storage devices”, and “Effective fire protection in modern timber structures”. The full programme and tickets are available online from: www.feuertrutz.de/brandschutzkongress

The BrandschutzDIREKT extinguishing technology seminar is aimed at all skilled employees working in active fire protection, and will explore the latest innovations in extinguishing technology as well as case studies and real-life experiences. For information and tickets:

Tickets for FeuerTrutz After Work

On the first evening of the trade fair the nearby Max Morlock Stadium will be the venue for FeuerTrutz After Work: relaxed networking and culinary treats from the Franconian region, all in a “beer garden” setting. A separate ticket is required for this event. Tickets cost EUR 58, and can also be obtained from the online ticket shop: www.feuertrutz-messe.de/en/afterwork

Travelling to the trade fair: Discounted rail tickets available

Using the Deutsche Bahn event ticket, participants can travel to FeuerTrutz from throughout Germany from EUR 51.90 (one-way), including ICE and EC/IC trains. Another option is the 49-euro ticket that has been valid since May. With this ticket, visitors can use local public transport to get to
