

PRESS RELEASE

December 2021

Plenty of anticipation for Enforce Tac 2022

“After an unbelievable two-year break we can hardly wait to be able to open Hall 12 up for our exhibitors and visitors once again,” say the Enforce Tac organizing team. “We are overwhelmed, as we have been during the last two years, by the support and warmth shown by our customers. In this situation we can only express our thanks, and we’re looking forward to being able to do so again in person quite soon.” The event enjoys full support from its exhibitors, and is already almost fully booked. As always, the industry needs personal interaction – especially on-site at the exhibition!

NürnbergMesse can provide an assurance at all times that it is observing all the safety standards that have applied since autumn 2021. These not only constitute the heart of its entire exhibition strategy, but also take top priority at all times. The Exhibition Centre is best equipped for holding events in compliance with these stringent hygiene regulations, and NürnbergMesse is prepared for the possibility of running exhibitions under a possible “VR+” scenario (vaccinated/recovered PLUS rapid antigen test, “2G+” in Germany). Currently, events running under VR+ have to rely on offsite testing arrangements. All important, accurate information on current measures and regulations can be found on the website and is constantly being updated.

The Enforce Tac team is best prepared, and is in ongoing interaction with exhibitors.

“It’s important to emphasise once again that Enforce Tac can be held subject to all the conditions currently applying to exhibitions,” says Isabelle Teufert, Exhibition Director Enforce Tac. “There is no general ban on holding events.”
