MEET THE INTERNATIONAL HEAT PUMP COMMUNITY!

On 24–25 October 2023, Nuremberg will once again play host to the international heat pump community. At the high-calibre congress with accompanying foyer expo, renowned speakers will come together with international decision-makers from industry, commerce and the R&D segment. Seize the opportunity to showcase your company with a congress presentation or take advantage of our other attractive packages at this important forum for the heat pump sector.

As well as exploring innovative technologies in component manufacturing and the use of heat pumps in commercial and industrial applications, the summit will also highlight the issue of refrigerants, the use of hybrid systems and high-temperature heat pumps, heat pump applications in existing buildings, and many other topics. The congress, which will be live-streamed again this year, is aimed at international decision-makers from the commercial, industrial and R&D environments.

As part of the accompanying foyer expo, you can also present your solutions and product innovations to a high-calibre audience of industry professionals and engage in face-to-face dialogue with your target group.

Don't miss out when international experts from the R&D community and industrial practice come together at the European Heat Pump Summit - powered by Chillventa.
