

CONGRESS STADTLANDBIO

Organic. Food. Agriculture –
Opportunity for a climate-friendly local agriculture and food economy

Programme

Wednesday, 27.7.2022

10:00 – 10:30

Official opening*

- Peter Ottmann, CEO NürnbergMesse
 - Johann Kalb, Council President, Nuremberg Metropolitan Region and Chief Executive, Bamberg district
 - Marcus König, Mayor of Nuremberg
- Moderator: Prof. Dr. Martina Schäfer, TU Berlin

10:30 – 11:15

Keynotes*

- Example of how climate protection and the agri-food industry are linked in Paris:
 - EU Commission, DG Agriculture and Rural Development, Head of Organic Farming
 - Dr. Ophelia Nick, Parliamentary State Secretary, Federal Ministry of Food and Agriculture
 - Audrey Pulvar, deputy mayor for sustainable food, farming and short agri-food supply chains, City of Paris

11:15 – 12:30

Panel discussion

The panel discussion moderated by Hanna Gersmann will explore what towns and counties can do for climate protection in the agri-food sector. One example will be the special activities undertaken by the City of Paris. The interesting speakers will include Dr. Ophelia Nick, Anja Boudon and Elena Panichi.
For details of other speakers, go to: www.stadtlandbio.de.

12:30 – 13:30

Lunch break – time to eat and chat

13:30 – 15:00

Meeting of mayors and district administrators

Keynote with subsequent discussion, using the example of the European Metropolitan Region of Nuremberg:
Funds for climate protection and contribution to the Paris Climate Agreement.
Moderator: Britta Walthelm, Department of Environment and Health, City of Nuremberg and spokeswoman for the city's Climate Protection and Sustainable Development Forum

13:30 – 15:00

Workshops*

- WS 1 Regional logistics – a contribution to climate protection?
Presentation: Dr. Ophelia Nick, Parliamentary State Secretary, Federal Ministry of Food and Agriculture
Moderator: Prof. Dr. Martina Schäfer, TU Berlin
- WS 2 Soil as climate “saviour” – what can municipalities do?
Presentation: Joachim Böttcher, Chairman of the Executive Board, Stiftung Lebensraum (Habitat Foundation)
Moderator: Franziska Distler, Manager Öko-Modellregion Nürnberg, Nürnberger Land, Roth (ecological ‘model region’)
- WS 3 Urban farming as a component of modern urban development
Presentation: Florian Demling, Bavarian State Research Centre for Viticulture and Horticulture, research project urban gardening
Moderator: Jürgen Lehmeier, architect
- WS 4 Eating our way to climate protection.
How can the catering industry help?
Impuls: Rainer Roehl, a’verdis
- WS 5 Regional agriculture, climate protection and tasty food: practical examples show the way. Schotenklump and Lebensmittelpunkt link regionality, taste and climate protection.
Projects of the funding measure Stadt-Land-Plus present concrete examples and discuss with the audience on the question: Which paths to a regional food strategy do we want to follow?
Presentation:
Martin Kohl, Wertvoll Leipzig and Sebastian Rogga, KOPOS
Moderator: Uwe Ferber

15:00 – 15:30

Lunch break – time to eat and chat

15:30 – 17:00

Best Practice: Organic towns and regions in Europe **

Selected towns and regions present themselves and their key projects: City Bremen, City Lyon, Organic City and eco-model region Regensburg and City Wrocław

18:00 – 20:30

Evening event*

Over dinner, chat with other participants about what you’ve learned

CONGRESS STADTLANDBIO

Organic. Food. Agriculture –
Opportunity for a climate-friendly local
agriculture and food economy

Programme

Thursday, 28.7.2022

09:30 - 11:00

Dialogue forum: EU agricultural policy, global market, major corporations – how regional can agri-food policy really be?

- Ariane Voglhuber, Fraunhofer Institute for Systems and Innovation Research, expert from the Commission on the Future of Agriculture
 - Klaus Engemann, Biolandhof Engemann
- Moderator: Hanna Gersmann

11:00 - 11:15

Lunch break – time to eat and chat

11:15 - 11:30

Summing up

Dr Werner Ebert, ORGANIC METROPOLIS NUREMBERG, Director, German Organic Towns Network

11:30 - 12:15

Paving the way to the future – German Organic Towns Network and Organic Cities Network Europe

Discussion with Dr Claudio Serafini, Organic Cities Network Europe, Ronny Meyer, Bremen State Council and spokesman for the German Organic Towns Network, and Tina Andres, chairperson Bund Ökologische Lebensmittelwirtschaft
Moderator: Hanna Gersmann

12:15 - 12:45

Lunch break – time to eat and chat

12:45 - 14:00

Experience BIOFACH

There's a very special atmosphere at BIOFACH: Experience the passion of this leading industry event and immerse yourself in the diverse world of organic food. We'll be happy to provide information on exciting features and attractions.

Guided tours at BIOFACH on topics such as:

- Communal catering for schools and day-care centers & canteen kitchens
- Regionality / eco-model regions
- Fair Trade

14:00

Enjoy some unstructured time at BIOFACH

Tickets

STADTLANDBIO municipal ticket

for employees of an administration, persons with a political mandate, nutrition councils and employees in eco-model regions 129 EUR

STADTLANDBIO-Congressticket

for company representatives 179 EUR

Early booking advantage for municipal and congress ticket: 15 EUR discount up to and including 1.5.2022

Price includes: program, drinks, BIOFACH visit, lunch snack

Digital ticket

incl. visit of the digital platform BIOFACH VIVANESS 85 EUR

Exhibition Centre Nuremberg
Entrance NCC West
27-28.7.2022

All sessions will take place on site in Nuremberg as a face-to-face event. Selected sessions will be on a live stream or on demand at the digital event platform.

* Session will additionally be offered digitally

 Parts of the session will also be offered digitally

 All prices plus VAT at the statutory rate

* Limited number of participants, registration required