Avian Influenza (H5N1): Protection measures and import bans prolonged

Dear Exhibitor,

Due to the ongoing problem of avian influenza (bird flu) in various regions worldwide, the ban on commercial EU imports of live captive birds still remain in place.

Movement restrictions on pet birds entering the EU from third countries and national surveillance programmes have to be observed as well.

In respect of the imponderable further development, we feel impelled, much to our regret, to interdict the presentation of ornamental birds at INTERZOO 2022.

You are kindly asked for observance. We would like to apologise for any inconvenience.
